

JOHN JONES SURGICAL SOCIETY

Presents a Festschrift in Honor of

ERIC A. ROSE, MD

Chairman, Department of Surgery, Columbia University, (1994-2008)

PRELIMINARY MORNING PROGRAM

8:45am- 9:00am Welcome

9:00am-10:15am Session I – Surgical Innovation, I

Moderator – Henry M. Spotnitz, MD, George Humphreys II Professor of Surgery, Vice Chair, Research and Information Systems, Department of Surgery, Columbia University, NY

“Eric A. Rose – Irrational Optimist”

Kenneth A. Forde, MD, José M. Ferrer Professor Emeritus, Columbia University, NY

“Minimally Invasive Cardiac Surgery: Transferring the Pain from the Patient to the Surgeon”

Michael Argenziano, MD, Assistant Professor of Surgery, Cardiothoracic Surgery Division, Columbia University, NY

“Novel Anticoagulation for CPB and Extracorporeal Support”

Ann Marie Schmidt, MD, Gerald and Janet Carrus Professor of Surgical Science (in Surgery), Columbia University, NY

“Bilateral Internal Thoracic Artery Grafting: A Thirty Year Experience”

Paul A. Kurlansky, MD, Director of Research, Florida Heart Research Institute, Miami, FL

“A Leader at Heart (VAD and TXP)”

Niloo M. Edwards, MD, Professor of Surgery; Chairman-Division of Cardiothoracic Surgery, University of Wisconsin, WI

10:15am-10:35am Intermission

10:35am-11:50am Session II – Surgical Oncology

Moderator – José Guillem, MD, Professor of Surgery, Cornell University Medical College, Attending Surgeon, Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, NY

“Vascular Biology and Pediatric Cancer”

Jessica J. Kandel, MD, Associate Professor of Surgery (in the Institute for Cancer Genetics), Columbia University, NY

“Multimodality Therapy for Locally Unresectable Pancreatic Carcinoma”

John A. Chabot, MD, Professor of Clinical Surgery, Department of Surgery; Director, Pancreas Center, Columbia University, NY

“VATS Lobectomy vs. Thoracotomy for Lung Cancer”

Raja M. Flores, MD, Associate Professor of Cardiothoracic Surgery, Cornell University Medical College, Associate Thoracic Surgeon, Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, NY

“Health, Society and the Surgeon”

Thomas A. Colacchio, MD, Professor of Surgery; President, Dartmouth-Hitchcock Clinic, Lebanon, NH

“Enabling, Implementing, and Validating Training Methods in Laparoscopic Surgery”

Dennis L. Fowler, MD, MPH, Former US Surgical Professor of Clinical Surgery, Columbia University, NY

12:00pm-1:45pm Lunch

PRELIMINARY AFTERNOON PROGRAM

2:00pm-3:00pm Session III – Transplantation and Organ Preservation

Moderator – Niloo M. Edwards, MD, Professor of Surgery; Chairman-Division of Cardiothoracic Surgery, University of Wisconsin, WI

“Optimizing Donor Organ Performance: Cold Preservation to Warm Perfusion”

Valluvan M. Jeevanandam, MD, Professor and Chief, Cardiothoracic Surgery, University of Chicago, IL

“Live Donor Liver Transplantation”

Robert S. Brown, Jr., MD, MPH, Frank Cardile Professor of Medicine and Professor of Pediatrics (in Surgery), Columbia University, NY

“The Long Road to Islet Transplantation”

Mark A. Hardy, MD, Auchincloss Professor of Surgery, Department of Surgery, Columbia University, NY

“Overcoming Immunologic Incompatibility in Renal Transplantation”

Lloyd E. Ratner, MD, Professor of Surgery, Director of Renal and Pancreatic Transplantation, Department of Surgery, Columbia University, NY

3:00pm-4:00pm Session IV – Clinical Progress

Moderator – Valluvan M. Jeevanandam, MD, Professor and Chief, Cardiothoracic Surgery, University of Chicago, IL

“Challenges in Evaluating Cardiovascular Surgical Innovations”

Annetine Gelijns PhD, Professor of Health Policy, Department of Health Policy, Mt. Sinai School of Medicine, NY

Alan Moskowitz MD, Professor of Health Policy, Department of Health Policy, Mt. Sinai School of Medicine, NY

“Concomitant Cardiac and Pulmonary Operations”

Aart Brutel de la Riviere, MD, PhD, Attending Cardiothoracic Surgeon, Onze Lieve Vrouwe Gasthuis, Amsterdam, The Netherlands

“Tetralogy of Fallot-Yesterday and Today”

Joanne P. Starr, MD, Congenital Heart Surgeon for the International Children’s Heart Foundation, Madison, TN

“Role of Left Heart Pump-Assist in Beating Heart Myocardial Revascularization”

Paolo Pepino, MD, Chief, Department of Cardiothoracic Surgery, Clinica Pineta Grande, Castel Volturno Caserta, Italy

4:00pm-4:15pm Intermission

4:15pm-5:15pm Session V – Surgical Innovation, II

Moderator – Dennis L. Fowler, MD, MPH, Former US Surgical Professor of Clinical Surgery, Columbia University, NY

“Multimedia Abstract Generation for Intensive Care (MAGIC)”

Desmond A. Jordan, MD, Associate Professor of Clinical Anesthesiology (in BioMedical Informatics), Columbia University, NY

“Topical Hemostats, Sealants, and Adhesives: Fibrin Sealant Use in the United States; Past, Present, and Future”

William D. Spotnitz, MD, MBA, Professor of Surgery, Director, Surgical Therapeutic Advancement Center, University of Virginia Health System, VA

“It’s all about YOU: Communicating with America”

Mehmet C. Oz, MD, Professor and Vice Chair of Surgery, Cardiothoracic Surgery Division, Columbia University, NY

“Left Ventricular Mechanics During Surgery for Congenital Heart Disease”

Henry M. Spotnitz, MD, George Humphreys II Professor of Surgery, Vice Chair, Research and Information Systems, Department of Surgery, Columbia University, NY

5:15pm: Closing Remarks – Henry M. Spotnitz, MD, Chair, John Jones Surgical Society Program Committee